- Programs were taught in a helpful, hands on way
- Nell Ruby's assignments were not only projects that let us develop our current artistic skill and expression, but also projects which taught us new skills, computer programs, software and technology.
- Learning the basics of Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop, and Final Cut.
- The critique, the very open-end assignment are very helpful.
- Very hands-on tutorials of new software, loved it!

- I found the color typography project redundant from the original typographical relationship and would have appreciated a different use of that time on another project.
- Not so much guidance where I felt there should have been (the first short film). And spending more time on software that did not require as much time (spending so much time on illustrator and photoshop when I think that more should've been spent on final cut express,) but great set of software and order of them through the semester.
- No predefined syllabus

- The instructor helps me to develop my own idea. I enjoy the class so much.
 - I love Nell!!
- Nell is a joy as always. Learning from and with her is always, always a pleasure. She pushes you to think and grow as an individual. I get the sense that she truly respects me and my work. She truly knows how to talk about art in a way that my mind can understand and apply to my own work.

Q27 - If you have previously completed ART 260, Image and Word: Methods in Art and Art History, are there ways that it helped prepare you for the content/and or skills involved in this course? Please be as specific as you can and use examples whenever possible

Response Rate: 28.57% (2 of 7)

- I have not previously completed ART 260.
- the critical thinking and research required in order to make quality work was definitely learned from Methods. So when it came to researching and critically thinking through processes, it helped a lot.
